Constantly recommended by Asia Pacific Legal 500 and Asialaw Profiles, the Litigation and Dispute Resolution Department of Raja, Darryl & Loh takes pride in its 40 years of impressive contentious experience. The recognitions we have received are the product, we believe, of our ability, enthusiasm and professionalism in managing and resolving our clients' legal disputes, combined with our continuous efforts to enlarge and improve our litigation services.

The Team

The team is currently the largest department in the firm and has undertaken prominent courtroom battles involving Fortune 500 companies, high profile individuals and governmental bodies.

The lawyers in the team have been educated both locally and abroad and have been trained to provide personable, professional and responsive service. Apart from English and the Malay language, due to their diverse racial and cultural backgrounds, these lawyers speak many of the languages and dialects spoken in the Asian region including Mandarin, Cantonese and Tamil.

Experience

The firm's litigators have been involved in landmark cases that have resulted in important legal precedents in the country. Cases handled by the firm include representing the former Lord President of Malaysia during a constitutional crisis, acting for a former Minister of International Trade and Industry in his libel suit and successfully prosecuting a claim in respect of an allegation of reverse engineering that led to amendments to the Malaysian Copyright Act, 1987. Notably, the firm's head of litigation acted as Lead Counsel in one of the most controversial and biggest suits reported involving the founder of one of the leading banking institutions in the country.
